

STEDELIJK MUSEUM AMSTERDAM 2024 CONTEMPORARY ART EXHIBITIONS

In 2024, the Stedelijk Museum Amsterdam will host a wide array of contemporary art exhibitions that are sure to captivate visitors. Highlights include an ambitious solo exhibition on Lee Ufan, showcasing his minimalist approach and exploration of space and material, and a fascinating look at Asian Bronze craftsmanship. The major exhibition titled "Unravel", running from September 14, 2024, to January 5, 2025, delves into the use of textile in contemporary art. Other intriguing showcases include a Stanley Broun exhibition from June 1 to September 1, 2024, and the museum's biennial group exhibition featuring Dutch artists. Located in the heart of Amsterdam, the Stedelijk Museum is easily accessible by tram 2 or 12 from Van Baerlestraat or a scenic 35-minute walk through Vondelpark. With a permanent collection that spans from 1880 to present day, open daily with extended hours on Fridays, there's always something new and inspiring to explore. . .
